Prevail Maximum Long Bladder Control Pads

Prevail Maximum Long Bladder Control Pads for women provide extra coverage to those with over active bladder, and stress incontinence and urge incontinence. These pads are designed for women who need moderate to heavy bladder control protection, and will fit you no matter what your size. They rate 5 out of 5 stars and as with all Prevail incontinence products, they provide excellent quality and cost less than that of most competitors.

Expert Insights

'Prevail Maximum Long Bladder Control Pads are best suited for women who experience moderate to heavy incontinence. It is a great alternative to Poise Ultra Plus, Kendall Sure Care Ultra Plus, Serenity Night and Day Pads, and Medline Liner Ultra Plus.'

Features of the Prevail Maximum Long Bladder Control Pads

Prevail Maximum Long Bladder Control Pads will allow you the freedom to live your life the way you want. These urinary incontinence pads will keep you dry and odor free so you can stand as close as you want to friends, co-workers, customers, or patients with complete confidence. The Odor Guard protection will keep you feeling fresh and dry while you engage in everyday normal activities. Each pad is separately wrapped for your convenience so you can bring along a supply as needed.

The protective pads are lighter and thinner than Poise pads and offer 53% better fluid retention against leaks. The MaxSoft fabric offers discretionary use so you have the freedom to move as often as you want without the embarrassment of those annoying rustling or 'plastic' sounds. They fit securely into your own undergarments and will not budge due to the powerful adhesive strip. The cloth-like outer lining and Advanced Zoning System will ensure you stay cool with air-circulation that allows your skin to breathe. Prevail incontinence products and supplies do not contain latex, so you never need to worry about skin rashes or irritation. The Quick Wick technology is made up of a Target Acquisition Zone and a Blue Stay-Dry Strip to catch and disperse any moisture that enters onto the bladder control pad. Moisture is quickly moved away from your body where it is trapped within absorbent layers for your protection.

The innovative technology of these thin yet highly absorbent pads comes from First Quality. They are the top manufacturer of incontinence products in the US, and all Prevail products are made in the USA. Their reputation for creating this advanced technology is recognized by the healthcare industry and professionals nationwide.

These maximum long urinary incontinence pads are best used for moderate to heavy protection. They are designed for day and night overactive bladder use and stress incontinence and urge incontinence for those needing a little extra coverage.
